The match race between Gibson and Chapman has been postponed twice, end the boys are beginning to think that there is some hoodoo hanging around them.

Dates of Race Meets.

Dates of Race Meets.

It is probable that the meet scheduled for next Thursday will have to be called off. It was the intention of the management to hold three meets the coming week, but the annuoncement that the presiden will be buried or Thursday will, in all probability, alter the programme. An extra meet, however, may be given on Friday or Saturday night. There is some talk of giving races on Saturday afternoon. Day races have been tried in the past, but without much success. However, the large crowds that will be in the city on that day might make it pessible to hold races. The riders look upon the schence with interest, and are trying to induce the management to put on a programme on that date.

Races at Vailsburg.

New York, Sept. 15.—At the Vallsburg track today two world's records were broken. George C. Schrieber of New York finished close up in the quarter-mile handicap for amateurs, covering the distance in 31 seconds flat.

M. L. Hurley of New York won the five-mile race for amateurs in 11:96 2-5. The cld record was 11:13 4-5.

has been greatly beautified and reno cosiest meeting places of any church in the west. There are three new memorial windows, one given by Mrs. Albert E. Foulkes in memory of her deceased husband. Each of her two children, Margaret and Daniel Chisholm, has given a small window, located in the east end, behind the pulpit. The beautiful stained glass window on the west was given in honor of Rev. E. I. Goshen, the pastor, by a friend whose name was not divulged. The A. E. Foulkes memorial window is to the south. The workmanship is of the best and the sunlight filtering softly through the beautifully colored panes makes a most pleasing and artistic effect.

Memorial Services.

Union services were held last night in the Methodist church in commemoration of the death of President McKinley. The Baptists, Presbyterians, Congregationalists and Methodists united in the service, and the auditorium was completely filled, standing room being utilized.

Special musical services and short addresses were given by Pastors Evans, Carver, Goshen and Taylor.

The services throughout had a bearing on the life and work of the dead president.

Ogden Briefs.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles had its regular session last night in Ogden and adopted resolutions eulogistic of the late President McKinley and condemning the assassin. The lodge is preparing to entertain Del Cary Smith, grand worthy president of the order, who will be here some time in October and will deliver a lecture in the Grand opera house.

SIMPLE SERVICE OVER REMAINS OF M'KINLEY

Senator Hanna's Woe.

Senator Hanna's Woe.

Senator Hanna, who had fairly work-shiped his dead friend for years, entered the room at this time, but did not approach the casket. His face was set like an iron-willed man who would not let down the barrier of his grief. The senator spoke to no one. His eyes were vacant.

He passed through the throng and seated himself beside Governor Odell, sitting far down into his chair and resting his head upon his hand. During all the service that followed he did not stir.

Rev. Charles Edward Locke of the Delaware Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, who was to conduct the service.

The pastor was at the door leading into the hall, a station whence his words could be hearf at the head of the stairs. The signal was given and there welled out from the hall the beautiful words of "Lead, Kindly Light," sung by a quartette. It was President Mc-Kinley's favorite-hymn. Every one within sound of the music knew it, and half of those in the room put their faces in their hands to hide their tears, Compinaler Dawes leaned against a bookcuse and wept. President Roosevelt seemed to be swaying to and fro as if his footing were insecure.

When the singing ended the clergy-of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," the very words President McKinley had repated

the day of agony before he died. As the music died away the pastor spoke again.

"Let us pray," he said, and every head fell upon its breast. He began his invocation with a stanza from a hymn sung in the Methodist church. His prayer was as follows:

Our hope for years to come.
Our shelter from the storm's blast, And our eternal home.'

"We, thy servants, humbly beseech thee for manifestations of thy favor as we come into thy presence. We laud and magnify thy high name and praise thee for all thy goodness. Be merciful unto us and bless us, as stricken with overwhelming sorrow we come to thee. Forgive us for our doubts and fears and shortcomings, and help us to say, "Thy will be done.' In this dark night of grief abide with us till 'e dawning. Speak to our troubled souls. O God, and give to us in this hour of unutterable grief the peace and quiet which they presence only can afford.

"We thank thee that thou answerest the sobbing sigh of the heart, and dost assure us that if a man die he shall live again. We praise thee for Jesus Christ, thy Son, our Savior and Elder Brother; that he came 'to bring life and immortality to light,' and because he lives we shall live also. We thank thee that death is victory, that 'to die is gain. Have mercy upon us—in this dispensation of thy providence, we believe in thee—we trust thee—our God of love, 'the same yesterday, today and forever.' We thank thee for the unsullied life of thy servant, our martyred president, whom thou hast taken to his coronation, and we pray for the final triumph of all the divine principles of pure character and free government for which he stood while he lived, and which were baptized by his blood in his deeth.

"Graciously hear us for comforting blessing to rest on the family circle of our departed friend. Tenderly sustain by thine hand the one upon whom the blow of this sorrow most heavily falls. Accompany her, O God, as thou hast promised, through this dark valley and shadow, and may she fear no evil because thou are with her.

"All these things we ask in the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord, who has taught us when we pray, to say. 'Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come; thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. The funeral director was about step forward to place the cover on t casket when suddenly there was movement behind Governor Odell. So ator Hanna, who had risen, saw the last opportunity to look into face of his dead friend, had co face of his dead friend, had co at the side of the casket, and bending tover and looking down into it. Almost two minutes passed, and then he turned away and the coffin was closed.

Colonel Bingham signaled the body bearers. Four sailors, two infantry sergeants and two intillery sergeants bore the casket aloft and out of the house. The president, cabinet and the others followed it. Mrs. McKinley and the members of the family remained.

The widow had passed through the ordeal bravely and without breaking down. The trained nurses and the personal attendants of the president gathered on the side porch to see the body taken away.

It was within a minute of 11:30 o'clock when three long-rolls of a muffled drum told those outside the house that the funeral cortege was about to appear. From the darkened rooms the street. Soon the walks and lawns were again covered with the silent throng, with heads bared. At the moment the
